

Abstract

A lighting system, for vehicles, mounted externally of a truck, recreational vehicle or the like. The lighting system is interconnected with the vehicles lighting system, and has a base-mounting unit for mounting on the vehicle. At each end of the base-mounting unit are interconnecting extension members with universal coupling joints with the lighting units, which can be, disposed at most positions around the vehicle to provide peripheral lighting.